Meet Faisal

Faisal was born in Za'atari refugee camp in Jordan, after his family fled Syria.

Faisal attends our early learning centre in the camp, and he'll be starting school next year, so we're making sure he's ready to hit the ground running.

In this pack, we've got some great autumnal fundraising ideas to help more children like Faisal reach their potential.

Get cosy

With support from a Save the Children health worker, Leolida does all he can to help his 18-month-old brother recover from malnutrition.

Here are some fundraising ideas to get cosy with your loved ones to help change children's futures.

PUB QUIZ

With their curious nature, children ask some of the best questions! A pub quiz is the perfect way to raise money and have a good time to help change children's futures. Find out how to host your own quiz on our website: savethechildren.org.uk/quiz-fundraising

DECORATE PINECONES

This one is for the kids. Go foraging in your local woods or park for pinecones, take them home and make them into ornaments. Add paint and glitter, or make them into little hedgehogs. You could sell them for donations at your school or club.

Get together

Hiba and Rama are normal sisters. They bicker, they talk over one another, they laugh at each other. But they're also refugees. They're activists. Oh, and they're rappers.

By getting together with your friends, family and community for a fundraiser, you can help children's voices like Hiba's and Rama's be heard. Here are just a few ideas on how you can.

DIWALI

Celebrate the festival of light with a firework display. Serve up some delicious Indian food and let your guests tuck in. You could sell tickets or have collection buckets located around your venue for discretionary donations. For buckets, please email fundraising@savethechildren.org.uk

BONFIRE NIGHT

Remember, remember the 5th of November! Time for a night of sparklers, burgers and fireworks. Contact your local firework display and ask them to donate the proceeds of ticket sales to Save the Children, or hold your own display with friends and family and ask for a donation for your hospitality.

OKTOBERFEST

Host your very own Oktoberfest with German food and a beer-tasting station. You could either charge for each drink and food dish, or charge for a ticket. Encourage your guests to come in traditional Bavarian garments and send us pictures to fundraising@savethechildren.org.uk. Prost!

CURRY NIGHT

October holds Britain's favourite week – National Curry Week! Get your family, friends or community together and hold a curry night. Serve up poppadums, bhunas, and bhajis, and ask for a donation for your hospitality. Bring the party to the office and organise a curry station; ask your colleagues for a suggestion donation of £3 for a bowl of their favourite dish. ## Get creative

Get inspired by Faisal and run a creative fundraiser this Halloween.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Host a town Halloween party at a local hall or your house. Decorate with orange pumpkins, red blood and black cats. Charge your guests for a ticket and for additional fun at the party – you could include apple-bobbing, face-painting, and a costume contest for a spooktacular night of fundraising. Eat, drink and be scary!

HALLOWEEN BAKE SALE

Hold a beastly bake sale at your workplace for the creepiest day of the year, with proceeds going to Save the Children.

Send us your favourite fundraising photos and you could be featured on our website!
